

WAIVER/SUBSTITUTION of Graduate Course Requirement

Some Important Things to Consider:

To avoid problems, waivers must be processed during the student's first semester.

If a course taken before admission to the MPH program is to be included in the MPH degree, the transfer/inclusion request must also be completed during the student's first semester.

In the MPH program, you must substitute with an advisor-approved elective any waived course that was part of a previous degree program.

Only courses taken for graduate credit can be transferred/included in the MPH program.

In the PhD program, only "Core" courses can be waived without substitution; otherwise, waived courses must be substituted with an appropriate, advisor-approved selection.

To be safe, discuss these guidelines with program administrators.
